MEMORANDUM FOR SERVICE ACQUISITION EXECUTIVES
DIRECTORS, DEFENSE AGENCIES

SUBJECT: Use of the Governmentwide Commercial Purchase Card

The purpose of this memorandum is to highlight one application currently available for use of the Governmentwide commercial purchase card. The card continues to be one of the most popular simplified acquisition tools, and we encourage its use as part of our continuing efforts to reduce administrative lead times and costs through acquisition reform.

The Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR), at 13.301, authorizes several uses of the Governmentwide commercial purchase card including placement of a task or delivery order if authorized in the basic contract, basic ordering agreement, or blanket purchase agreement. Thus, appropriately designated individuals may use the card to place orders for supplies and services covered by Indefinite-Delivery Indefinite-Quantity contracts, Federal Supply Schedule contracts, Blanket Purchase Agreements, and other ordering instruments that may be accessible via electronic malls, such as the DoD EMail and GSA Advantage, when the contractor has agreed to accept the card.

I urge you to take advantage of this simplified acquisition process when you deem it to be consistent with good business practices. As you do so, I encourage you to consider the many small businesses that are accessible via the electronic malls. Remember, as well, to comply with the FAR Part 4, and Defense FAR Supplement Part 204, reporting requirements for purchases that exceed $25,000 in value.

A – Cardholders may be authorized to utilize the Government Purchase Card as a payment instrument for orders exceeding $2,500 made against Federal Supply Schedule contracts, calls written against a Blanket Purchase Agreement (BPA) or orders placed against Indefinite Delivery/Indefinite Quantity (IDIQ) contracts that contain a provision authorizing payment by credit card.

2. Q – How do “non-procurement” cardholders receive authorization to place orders against Federal Supply Schedule contracts, BPA’s, or IDIQ contracts?

A – Non-procurement cardholders who do not possess a contracting warrant must be designated as “ordering officers” by the cognizant contracting office. This designation must be in writing. Limitations on the authority of the ordering officer will be stated in their letter of appointment. In addition, ordering officers will also be required to comply with any DoD reporting requirements.

3. Q – Where is the authority derived from for appointing a non-procurement individual as an ordering officer?

A – The term “ordering officer” is used primarily in Army acquisition however, each DOD component has their own equivalent that serves the same function. The specific authority for appointing non-procurement individuals as ordering officers can be found in the individual service/agency supplements to the FAR and in local procurement guidance. Army FAR Supplement (AFARS) 1.602-2-91 addresses the appointment of ordering officers for the Army. Additional guidance can also be found in AFARS Manual No. 2, Appendix E. Air Force FAR Supplement (AFFARS) 5301.603-2-90 addresses the issue of “limited contracting officer authority.” In this supplement, non-contracting personnel are identified as individuals that may be granted authorization under certain specified circumstances such as orders placed against Federal Supply Service contracts. Defense Logistics Agency Directive (DLAD) 1.603-90 also addresses appointment of ordering officers. It is recommended that you contact your local procurement office in order to determine if any further guidance is available.
